Play It Safe — Player Security

1. Sign the back of your ticket immediately after purchase. Springing the back of the ticket is the single-most important thing you can do to protect yourself from theft, and to prove you own it. Lottery tickets are bearer instruments; whoever signs the back of the ticket is considered the legal owner.

2. Review your ticket to make sure you received what you intended to buy. Players are responsible for checking all aspects of tickets before leaving the store. Know the game being played, game details, and where to claim your prize. Game brochures are available at Wisconsin Lottery retailers. If a ticket appears to have been tampered with, contact the Wisconsin Lottery immediately.

3. Only purchase Lottery tickets from a licensed Wisconsin Lottery retailer. If you are approached by someone offering a “winning ticket” for cash, refuse the offer and contact the Wisconsin Lottery immediately.

4. Keep your Lottery ticket in a safe place. The ticket is not salable for damaged, lost, or stolen tickets.

5. Determine on your own whether your ticket has won a prize before you present it to be checked or cashed. You can verify prize amounts by using our ticket checkers, which can be found at all Wisconsin Lottery retailers.

6. Review the prize payout transaction details. Video screens showing Wisconsin Lottery transaction results are available at all Wisconsin Lottery retailers.

Avoid a Scam

• Be sure of noticing if you are shown a contest or giveaway you did not enter.

• Never pay-up front fees of any kind to claim a legitimate state lottery prize.

• Reject telephone, mail, email, or internet offers.

• Use only the Wisconsin Lottery website, or call the Wisconsin Lottery when purchasing a ticket.

• Always verify numbers and mailing addresses by searching official sources.

• Never provide personal information such as bank account numbers, credit card numbers, or Social Security numbers over the phone or online.

• Be aware of “support” messages that require an immediate response. It’s a common tactic used in scams that give you little time to check out the offer.

• Local businesses do not guarantee that you will win a prize and do not require payment in order to cash your ticket.

• Never agree to cash a lottery ticket for a stranger.

How To Help

If someone you know is gambling for more than fun, they may have a problem. Telling them to cut back or set limits often isn’t enough. Here are some ways to begin the conversation:

• Find a comfortable place to talk when you won’t be disturbed.

• Keep it simple and straightforward.

• Tell the person you care about them and you’re concerned about how they are acting.

• Tell the person exactly what they’ve done that concerns you.

• Tell the person how their behavior is affecting other people—be specific.

• Be clear about what you expect from them. (“I want you to talk to someone about your gambling.”)

• Let the person know you are not responsible for the gambler’s behavior.

• Acknowledge that gambling is a disease, and help is available.

• Encourage them to call the Problem Gambling Helpline.

• If you are the spouse or family member of a problem gambler, it is important for you to take care of yourself and realize that you are not responsible for the gambler’s behavior.

Problem gambling is not a bad habit or a moral weakness; it is a serious condition. With treatment, problem gamblers can put the game in perspective and make decisions to improve their lives.
